Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Saturday 11 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Showery in north. Mainly dry, bright in central and south.

Today:
Central Belt southwards seeing occasional brighter spells, with most avoid the few isolated light showers. Showers across the north, merging to longer period of rain at times in the far north, and turning heavier, potentially thundery, in east for afternoon.

Tonight:
Most staying dry with clear spells. Rain at times during the evening across Northern Isles, and to a lesser extent the far north and northeast of the mainland.

Sunday:
A fine, dry and sunny day for the vast majority with relatively light winds. However a few light well scattered showers may appear, chiefly in the northeast, also the Borders.

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Mixed with north and west mainly dry with best of the brighter spells. Occasional areas of weakening showery rain crossing from the southwest at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.